

RESOURCES FOR ONLINE ACADEMIC RESEARCH

At Grace Christian, our instructors place a strong emphasis on aiding our students' development of critical research skills. In light of today's technology and the more common occurrence of electronic publication, rather than print, it becomes essential for students to use discernment when considering the authority, bias, and reliability of online sources. The following is a list of databases and journals from reputable institutions and organizations that GCS teachers use to guide our students in making stronger choices when researching credible sources online.

Credo Reference

Google Scholar

HathiTrust Digital Library

Social Science Research Network

Directory of Open Access Journals

Directory of Open Access Books

Digital Commons Network

Academia.edu